Concerns raised over EDL-Hatters date clash

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

PLANS to hold an English Defence League march on the same day as a Luton Town football match have been slammed.

The Hatters will face AFC Telford United away in the opening game of the Blue Square season hours after the march in Wellington - which is less than half a mile from Telford's stadium - is due to take place.

The kick-off time for the Conference game on August 13 was put back from 3pm to noon and then finally to 7.45pm on police advice.

However, some have raised concerns the combination of a football match and an EDL march in such close proximity to each other is a recipe for disaster.

Luton South MP Gavin Shaker said: "This comes the same week as (EDL leader) Stephen Lennon's conviction related to his actions before a football match which again landed Luton and the EDL in the headlines.

"Legitimate followers of Luton Town are being disadvantaged by a group of people who are dragging down the name of the town.

"They are a small group of people and they are having a disproportionate effect on our reputation. We know Luton is a great place to live and we are very optimistic about our city status bid.

"I think it's very irresponsible to have an EDL march on the same day in the same place as where Luton Town are playing.

"It only serves to reinforce some of the negative stereotypes people have of the town."

Luton Borough Council leader Hazel Simmons said: "It is disappointing to hear that this small group that does not represent the overwhelming majority of people in Luton is yet again making headlines.

"Luton's diversity has long been one of its greatest strengths, and that remains the case today, with our communities making it very clear they want to present a strong, united front to marginalise those who seek to create divisions in our society.

"We are applying for city status because of our economic growth, industrial dynamism, social development and of course our vibrant, lively and diverse community which enriches the lives of all who live in, and visit, Luton."

A statement on Luton Town's website reads: "Had we not agreed to these stipulations set out by West Mercia Police the game would have been postponed, something that both clubs and the Football Conference wanted to avoid at all costs, especially as it is the opening game of the season".

A statement released by AFC Telford said: "The clubs have had to agree to facilitate a number of special arrangements and we apologise for any inconvenience to supporters' normal routines".

Chief Inspector Keith Gee, of West Mercia Police, said: "We are extremely sorry for any inconvenience caused to supporters of both clubs in this instance but if the game is to take place on the day - as is the desire of the clubs and the Football Conference - then a 7.45pm kick-off with alternative ticketing arrangements was the only option we were comfortable with."

A Bedfordshire Police spokeswoman said: "We always liaise with other forces and share information but that's all we would like to say about this."

EDL leader Stephen Lennon said: "This is a small regional demonstration and I've got nothing to do with it. People have a right to demonstrate.

"There was no need to delay the game, it's a total over-reaction and overkill and I believe it was done on purpose to create a backlash against the EDL.

"The date for the march was set before the fixture list was published so it's a massive coincidence that it's on the same day."

Taxpayers' cash lost as £5million housing strategy gets scrapped

BY LUI STRACCIA
lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

AROUND £5 million of taxpayers' money spent on a five-year plan to build thousands of homes has been 'wasted' after it was axed.

Vast amounts of funding went towards developing proposals for housing, employment, roads and schools in Luton and South Bedfordshire for the next 15 years, including around 20 'evidence studies'.

But on Friday it was agreed to axe the entire plan – known as the Core Strategy – leading to some to claim all of the money spent on it has been for nothing.

The total bill for putting the plan together is around £5 million, with funding coming from Luton Borough and Central Bedfordshire councils, as well as Central Government.

The Joint Committee, which was created to develop the plan, said it was being withdrawn 'on the singular ground that a specific site allocation to the west of Luton has not been allocated'.

Committee member Cllr David Franks, who is leader of Luton Town Hall's Liberal Democrat group, said his party had 'consistently complained' that the committee had 'never been presented with evidence and information on which to decide which areas should be included and which excluded'.

He added: "The complete waste of millions of pounds of taxpayers' money and seven years of hard work could have been avoided if the Labour and Tory chairman and vice-chairman had been prepared to present the full facts to the committee."

As recently as last month, the committee said it had 'agreed to continue' with the plan, even though a Government inspector had raised serious concerns as to its

'soundness'. Committee chairman Roy Davis, a Labour Luton councillor, said: "There is much in the Core Strategy that both councils can agree upon and Luton Borough will be continuing to co-operate with Central Beds and other councils in the area to ensure that its ideas can be taken forward in an appropriate way."

"While it is regrettable that one issue has resulted in this inevitable conclusion, we are unable to advise the Secretary of State and the Planning Inspector to continue with the process of examining the Core Strategy towards formal adoption in all reasonableness."

Hundreds of council staff earn over £50k

MORE than 480 council staff were paid salaries of £50,000 or over last year.

The sums paid to employees were revealed in Luton Borough and Central Bedfordshire councils' statements of accounts for 2010/11, published this month, which also reveal that more than £2.3million was paid to their chief executives and directors during that year.

At Luton Borough Council, a total of £1,253,180 was paid to its chief executive, Trevor Holden, and 12 other department heads. Mr Holden received a salary of £128,923 plus pension contributions of £15,707.

In total, 248 Luton Borough Council employees, both council officers and school staff, had salaries topping £50,000 (excluding pension contributions).

Last year, Central Beds chief executive Richard Carr was paid an £186,750 salary and £40,515 in pension contributions. Director of children's services Edwina Grant (also acts as deputy chief executive) received £157,987 and her pension contributions were £34,328.

There were 96 employees who were paid between £50,000 - £54,999 last year, while the number of people being paid between £65,000 - £69,999 more than doubled since 2009/10.

In total, there were 263 people, other than senior employees, earning between £50,000 - £129,999. There was one person earning between £125,000 - £129,999.

A Luton council spokesman said: "We are currently in the process of restructuring the council and, along with losing hundreds of posts, no officer has received a pay increase since 2009."

Central Beds Cllr Maurice Jones said: "We undertook a review of our management arrangements in 2010/11 which resulted in a 20 per cent reduction in staff at senior management level."

"This action has provided a significant saving of £1.7 million per annum."

"There has been a pay freeze across the council and the only rises in pay are linked to people rising up the salary scale or promotion."

Canister gas leak was cause of BBQ explosion

GAS leaking from a canister led to a barbecue stove explosion in which three children and a woman suffered severe burns.

A boy and two girls aged between six and 11 who attend Sacred Heart Primary School in Langford Drive, Luton, sustained 15 per cent to 20 per cent burns to their arms, while a woman in her 40s also suffered burns to her throat in a field in Ashcroft Way, Luton, on July 22 - the final day of the school year.

A fire service spokesman said: "The investigation has not been concluded yet but I think it's safe to say that it's understood that there was gas leaking from the canister which contributed to the explosion."

"These items are generally safe and incidents like this are not common but we would encourage users to read all instructions that come with these mini gas barbecues and discard any full or empty canisters carefully."

Paramedics and firefighters from the nearby Stopsley Fire Station worked to treat the injured parties at the event which was not organised by the school and used burn gel packs.

The pupils were taken to Luton & Dunstable Hospital, and the woman was airlifted to the specialist burns unit at Broomfield Hospital in Chelmsford.

A further three other adults were also taken to the Lister Hospital in Stevenage with minor burns.

White House pub pinpointed as a violent hotspot

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

ALMOST half of all incidents of violence linked to licensed premises in Luton town centre are connected to just one pub.

Seventeen violent offences were in some way related to The White House, in St George's Square, in the 12 months up to June, with the rest of the town centre bars, nightclubs and off licences having 24 between them.

The figures released by Bedfordshire Police under a Freedom of Information request reveal six of The White House offences were for assault occasioning ABH, two were for GBH with intent to wound, one for malicious wounding and one was for possessing of an article with a blade in a public place.

Cllr Dave Taylor, who represents Luton South ward which the pub is in, said: "I know it's one of the biggest and busiest in the town but I am surprised at the figures.

"If we [the council] were to be contacted by the police about this the ultimate option is a review of an establishment's licence.

"My first impression is that it's a well run establishment but it does get large crowds which could cause potential trouble."

A Bedfordshire Police spokeswoman said: "Central to our fight against crime and protection of the public is the reduction of alcohol fuelled violence and disorder.

"We work closely with local authorities and licensees to achieve this and have a developed a strong and open working relationship over the years to ensure good working practices are maintained.

"Should a premises repeatedly fail to maintain such standards, however, then positive action to get a licence revoked by the courts would be taken.

"It is also worth noting crimes recorded as 'violence against the person' include many where no or only minor injury is involved.

"However, the force are not complacent in their response and have in fact recently seen a 15 per cent fall in the number of 'most serious violence' offences, which reflects a significant achievement in protecting the public more effectively."

A spokesman for Wetherspoon, which owns the pub, said: "The White House is very popular and attracts large numbers of customers.

"The vast majority of them are well-behaved, however there have been occasions when the police, as outlined in the report, have been called to the pub.

"We would point out that of the incidents reported, some relate to situations which did not occur in The White House itself.

"Additionally police have been called to the pub itself after vigilant staff asked for assistance in removing customers whose behaviour was unacceptable. "The pub has worked and continues to work closely with the police."

Chief executive officer Adam Fouracre from voluntary group Stand Against Violence said: "Following the murder of my brother Lloyd in an incident of mindless alcohol fuelled violence, I believe it is vitally important to educate young people about the consequences of violence to stop these incidents reoccurring.

"Education is most definitely the key to prevention and this is what our charity aims to do."

Man goes on the run after smashing his home up with an axe

AN AXE-WIELDING man with mental health problems was on the loose for 17 hours before finally being arrested by police.

The man, believed to be in his 30s, smashed up his council house in Tithe Farm Road, Houghton Regis, on Wednesday at 5pm but ran away, sparking a huge manhunt which included armed officers and helicopters.

He was arrested at around 10am on Thursday when he returned to his now boarded-up home where police were waiting for him. He was taken to the police station on suspicion of criminal damage, and has not been. Instead of being charged he was handed over to the mental health services.

A police spokeswoman said: "We were called to Tithe Farm Road to a report of a man who had a small wood-chopping axe.

"Police attended in large numbers including the armed response unit as normal.

"We searched for the man who had done a lot of damage to his home and made good his escape before police arrived on the scene.

"Police did a thorough search and he was arrested when he returned to his house in a much calmer state."

Central Beds councillor Carole Hegley said: "The property has been secured and we are currently working closely with the police to determine the full facts of the situation and will continue to do so to achieve the most appropriate outcome for the community and the tenant."

Car washer assaulted over 'damaged' BMW

A CAR wash attendant was attacked by a customer who found his BMW had been damaged.

On Wednesday at about 2pm, the man returned to the car wash in Sundon Park Road, Luton, to make the complaint about the damage to his car.

After leaving again he returned with four or five other men and beat up the 31-year-old victim, who was left with facial injuries and needed 13 stitches to a cut on his nose.

The main attacker is described as black, about 24 years old, 6ft tall with a slim build. He wore a white sleeved top, trousers and a grey baseball cap.

Anyone with information can contact Detective Constable Duncan Crighton, in confidence, on 01582 394335, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Medical staff in dark over study

WORRIED staff have been calling a hospital to find out about plans that could see services go in an NHS shake-up which they were not aware of.

Last week we revealed Luton & Dunstable Hospital is part of a review that means any of its services could be lost to others elsewhere but could also gain some services it does not currently offer to patients.

The Acute Services Review, which also includes hospitals in Milton Keynes, Northampton, Kettering and Bedford, was set up to consider how services will be provided across the region.

The review is in its very earliest stages and is expected to go out to public consultation at the end of the year.

Any changes that are recommended could be put in place between April 2012 and April 2014.

A hospital spokesman said: "The South East Midlands Acute Services Review provides the L&D and some surrounding hospitals to discuss, in consultation with the public and all other stakeholders, which services are best provided where in the interests of maintaining safety and the highest quality of care."

Hospital dishes up food review

EXCLUSIVE

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

SPECIALISTS are being drafted in at a hospital to review its catering services - weeks after they were slammed for serving a diabetic pensioner jacket potatoes and vegetables twice a day.

Last month we reported Salma Begum said her father Ataur Rahman, 74, was not treated for a hypo as Luton & Dunstable Hospital nurses thought he was merely 'snoring'.

Miss Begum, of Westbourne Road, Luton, said his blood glucose level plummeted to 1.7 mM - well below the 3 mM at which potentially fatal hypoglycemia episodes occur - because 'he wasn't getting the right diet'.

The hospital's catering service for patients and staff is currently run as an 'in-house' operation with food cooked on the premises. There are also four retail outlets offering a range of hot drinks, snacks, newspapers/magazines and confectionary.

COMPLAINT:
Salma and her sister Rahima Begum

Last Friday L&D managers informed union representatives of the review, which is about to begin and will last several months, and the hospital said 'all options will be considered' including options for additional catering/retail services.

The L&D said the review was part of a 'wider evaluation of the estate and how improvements can be made to the patient and visitor experience'.

Miss Begum, who registered a complaint against the hospital for the treatment her father received, said: "If it's the case that the L&D is conducting a review, then that's brilliant because lots of people have been going to the newspapers with stories about the hospital and it looks like it's had an effect."

In a statement the L&D said: "This evaluation is in very early stages and no decisions have been made to bring in a private catering company, or indeed to make any changes to the current provision of food and drink to patients and staff."

THE Big Society debate reminds me of a string of letters that, many years ago, appeared in one of the national newspapers, concerning the then British Railways.

A reader wrote in to complain about how inefficient, expensive and grubby was our railway system. He went on to suggest it was a 19th century mode of travel, with an early 20th century mode of management and should be chopped altogether.

The state was simply no good at running this kind of thing and Beeching had not gone anywhere far enough with his cuts. The railway lines could then be tarmacked and used exclusively for lorries, which would make their journeys easier and also free up the other roads for car users. They are straight and connect to major cities, so there should be fuel savings as well.

This idea received a lot of support, and one reader suggested that as they were lorry only and straight roads, these lorries could pull trailers a lot easier, thereby increasing the efficiency. This idea received a lot of support and one reader suggested that to further increase fuel efficiency and pull even more trailers, the lorries could be put on tracks ...

For more than 100 years the working classes of this country, often excluded from much of the social, educational and financial services the country provided,

There could be a big future in thinking on a smaller scale did it for themselves. Friendly societies, mutuals, guilds and co-operatives were established where people saved collectively, which allowed them to build their own house, schools and cottage hospitals. Forward thinking councils, such as the one in Birmingham led by Joseph Chamberlain, helped provide decent education, clean water and sewage, street lamps and much else. It was all done locally. But with the expansion of the state and the growth of corporate capitalism, local and non-accountable bodies became unpopular.

The right did not like them because they challenged the free market and a profit could not be made from them.

The left did not like them because they challenged the all-pervading power of the state, and were pluralist and local rather than corporate and central.

The right under Thatcher weakened trade unions and co-operatives and facilitated the switching of many friendly – or building societies as they had become – societies to private capital banks. They even told us there was no such thing as societies, let alone a big one. The left 'nationalised' education, health and social services, as nanny state knew best. You don't have to read Kafka to realise the problems such a large, centralised state could cause.

Many distrust the present Government's Big Society idea as no more than a money-saving gimmick. We pay taxes for these services we are now being asked to do ourselves, for nothing. But why not take them at their word? What is wrong with local ownership, and local democracy which will break down, or at least mitigate the worst excesses of multi-national capitalism and the state.

Schools could have different ethics, mutual and friendly societies could be allowed to grow again and cottage hospitals to fill the gap left by the inevitable rise of regional super-hospitals.

As historian AJP Taylor once said, before the First World War the only time most British people came in contact with the state was when they visited the Post Office.

Perhaps it is the time for the rise of localism and pluralism, two words once hated by left and right. The little Big Society.

Suspensions raised by empty pub fire

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWO fires may have been started deliberately in a disused pub in the space of a week.

More than 20 firefighters were called to the Priory Pub in High Street North, Dunstable (right), on Wednesday evening to tackle the first-floor blaze.

There was also a small fire at the property on July 22.

The building, which has been boarded up since 2009, was heavily smokelocked and it took nearly an hour for it to be brought under control.

It is not known if there was anyone in the building at the time.

Two crews from Dunstable initially went to the scene but called for two more from Luton and Toddington to help them.

Fire service spokesman Neil Thompson said: "There is an investigation into the fire. It is a vacant building and at this stage we don't know what it will come up with."

"We have attended fires there before but I can't say whether this is suspicious. There is the possibility that it was started deliberately and this is one of the things being looked into."

Missing persons' tally tops 1,000 in six months

MORE than 1,000 people have been reported missing in the county so far this year.

Figures released by Bedfordshire Police following a Freedom of Information request reveal that 1,009 cases were reported in the six months up to June 26.

Although these are incidents which have initially been recorded under the missing person category, not all go on to be investigated as many are found safe and well within a few hours of it being reported.

A force spokeswoman said: "We are currently investigating two 'active' missing person reports but also have 68 'inactive' missing person investigations logged."

"Inactive investigations relate to people who have been missing for some considerable time.

"Two date back to the 1980s, while many others involve people who are known to be safe and well and now living in a foreign country, but whom remain listed as 'missing' because they have not been seen in person by a Bedfordshire police officer."

Just peace and quiet Riverside Holiday Park

What we offer is a distinctive Park rich with character in a beautifully landscaped riverside setting, ideally situated in the heart of the countryside.

Riverside Holiday Park is easily accessed from Junction 13 and 14 of the M1, the A6 and the A1 and has been a family holiday destination for over 60 years.

Riverside is a safety valve from the pressures of modern life and there's no better place to unwind than on the riverbank – fishing rights are included and you can even use a small boat if you want more exercise!

Park open March – January

Accompanied viewing by appointment if required or you're welcome to visit anytime.

Free Insurance included for purchases before the end of July.

Gum ban overreaction

SIR - I was quite astonished to read the story on the front page of Luton on Sunday last week about the football fan being banned from matches for throwing chewing gum.

It seems like the judicial system has gone overboard on this one. If you walk down most streets anywhere in the country, plenty of people throw their chewing gum on to the streets but are they given any kind of banning order or made to pay £600?

Perhaps the police and council should be tackling those people instead.

It's not as if it was something that could have seriously injured another fan either. Fair enough if it was a bottle or anything more substantial. But the most chewing gum is going to do is get stuck in someone's hair and they might have to cut a bit out. Not exactly crime of the century.

There are plenty more things going on that deserve more time and attention from the police and the courts.

Name and address supplied

Out of proportion

SIR - What on earth were magistrates thinking when they sentenced Mr Wilson to a three-year football banning order just for throwing chewing gum?

I could understand it if it was a bottle or something that would cause injury but clearly this man is not an outright hooligan.

He was a bit fed up with the result and took his anger out by chucking a piece of gum - hardly a massive offence is it?

Naomi Hall
New Bedford Road, Luton

Schools' disappointment

SIR - It is a shame that the Government has stuck to its decision about the Building Schools for the Future project (Luton on Sunday, July 24).

Pupils and staff at both schools affected by his latest announcement, Stopsley High School and Cardinal Newman Catholic High School, must be extremely disappointed that they are not able to improve the current buildings.

Education is the most important tool in improving the country and this just seems like a step backwards.

The little glimmer of hope that was left after Luton Borough Council won its appeal in the High Court has been stamped out by the Government.

Christine Ross
Dunstable Road, Luton

Truly shocking statistic

SIR - In reference to your story in last week's Luton on Sunday, I think it is a sad sign of the times we live in now that the police are having to issue more Osman warnings to members of the public.

The very fact that 27 people have already been informed this year by Bedfordshire Police that their lives are in danger is shocking. Not only is this already an increase on the year before but it's a quite substantial one. God knows what this figure will stand at by the end of December.

Laura Hyden

Spending money on busway is insanity

SIR - Another week and another story in the media about how much Luton Dunstable Busway is going to cost taxpaying citizens like myself.

Why is it that it is the hardworking people who are going to have to fund this white elephant that nobody in Luton or Dunstable wants?

It is another terrible idea that the Labour council has come up and have pushed through their system.

In the time of all these cuts to services and job losses it seems absolutely insane to be spending millions on this busway and then £307,000 each year in order to run it.

This story is on page two and then you turn to page five and there's the chief executive Trevor Holden spouting off about how

An artist's impression of how the Luton and Dunstable Busway will look the people of Luton are at the centre of this new transformation strategy they have come up with.

What a load of nonsense.
Luton Borough Council - wise up, you're making yourself ever more unpopular with the public through spending money on this total waste of a project.

Debbie Smith

Farewell Mr McFarland

SIR - After reading your feature last week about Brian McFarland retiring, I would like to wish him all the best.

It is clear that he has put a lot of work into his 24 years at the shopping centre and he has overseen a great number of changes there.

He obviously cares greatly about the town and it is sad that he has said goodbye to The Mall.

Grateful for donations

SIR - Macmillan Cancer Support appreciates that everyone is tightening their belts in today's climate but we are very grateful for the generous support that was given on July 16 at Wilkinsons in the Mall, Luton.

A total of £323.55 was donated and this will be used locally to support the work of Macmillan. Your continued support is essential to provide the very best services to patients and their relatives. To the collectors and those who donated we again thank you.

Care homes review

SIR - I was recently asked by charities Leonard Cheshire Disability and Mencap to chair an independent review into how the personal mobility needs of people living in state-funded residential care are met.

As a lifelong campaigner for the rights of blind and disabled people, I was delighted to accept.

The proposed removal of mobility payments from people living in residential care through the welfare reform bill potentially has a significant impact on the lives of disabled people. It is therefore important that there is a public and comprehensive look at this issue.

Between now and October 10, 2011, I would like to hear from disabled people living in state-funded residential care and their families, care providers and local authorities.

By getting in touch you will help us comprehensively examine how people's needs are currently met, how mobility support is currently funded, the requirements of providers and any concerns from parties involved in residential care.

We will publish the findings in the autumn enabling peers to consider the evidence and our recommendations as they debate the Welfare Reform Bill.

Pets and rental survey

SIR - Dogs Trust, the UK's largest dog welfare charity, is encouraging all Bedfordshire pet owners who have ever rented, or tried to rent accommodation with their pet to take part in an important online survey www.surveymonkey.com/s/lets-with-pets

Through this survey, the charity will gather details of pet owners' experiences to understand the current pet friendly rental situation in the UK.

The survey is part of the charity's Lets with Pets campaign that works with the lettings industry to demonstrate how pet inclusive tenancy agreements can benefit both the landlord and tenant.

In 2008, our research revealed that 78 per cent of pet owners experienced difficulties finding pet friendly rental accommodation, and 14 per cent resorted to keeping their pet without their landlord's knowledge or consent. This new survey will allow Dogs Trust to assess whether the situation has improved or if the ongoing recession has worsened the outlook for pet owners.

Come run for charity

SIR - I would like to make a special appeal to running enthusiasts, who would like to take part in the Bupa Great South Run, the world's leading ten-mile flat road run, featuring Portsmouth's historic naval dockyard, on October 30.

The Children's Trust has a number of guaranteed places for this event, so I would be delighted to hear from any interested runners as soon as possible, but no later than September 12, which is the final deadline to register with us.

By taking part in this event and running with The Children's Trust's team you will be raising money for some of the UK's most severely disabled children and helping to enhance their lives.

For own-place runners, it's not too late to join us. If you have your own place in the Great South Run, we would love to have you in our team.

The Children's Trust, Tadworth is a national charity, which provides care, education and therapy for children with multiple disabilities and complex health needs, and rehabilitation to children with an acquired brain injury.

Please help to make a difference - sign up now to join our team of runners.

We ask for a £25 registration fee to cover entry costs, runner's vest and an information pack with tips on fundraising.

I can be contacted on 01737 365017, by email slester@thechildrenstrust.org.uk or visit www.thechildrenstrust.org.uk/greatsouthrun

We also have a number of guaranteed places in other runs, including the adidas Women's 5K Challenge in Hyde Park London on September 11.

I look forward to hearing from you.
Sherene Lester
Community Fundraising Assistant, The Children's Trust, Tadworth

Legal aid restriction plan

SIR - At present, individuals acquitted of criminal charges are able to claim back reasonable out-of-pocket legal expenses.

The previous Government made proposals seeking to remove this established right as a cost-cutting measure.

Members of the current Government quite rightly opposed this move during 2009-10, and it was dropped after the General Election.

Unfortunately, tempted by cost-cutting, the government is reviving the plans, adding questionable restrictions on legal aid.

Prosecutions can cover relatively ordinary matters such as motoring where the authorities are less than perfect. As many as one in five Crown Court cases has been found to be ineffective.

It is quite wrong that the government should wish to see innocent people out-of-pocket when they have to defend their reputation, particularly those thrifty enough to build some savings.

As the government has just reduced the interest payable on an Irish loan (losing up to £75 million a year income), it can't be that desperate. I urge readers to check the Law Society website for more details, and to write to their MP at the House of Commons, London SW1A 0AA.

Mark Taylor,
Campaign Manager, New Alliance

Horseracing tragedy

SIR - I am sickened by the needless tragedy which took place at Ascot on Saturday, July 23, when a beautiful young horse needlessly lost his life.

Rebalding was second favourite to win the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes when he stumbled and broke his leg at the home stretch.

Jockey Frankie Dettori was thrown but not seriously hurt, and the horse continued to struggle on three legs, with the broken foreleg swinging and the cannon bone exposed. He was swiftly put down.

Dettori had won a race on him in June, after which he was disciplined for excessive use of the whip.

There are many disturbing things about the horseracing industry, including the fact that racehorses are bred for speed rather than skeletal strength, making such fatalities more likely.

Since March 2007, 718 horses have died on racecourses. This total excludes those who are slaughtered because they do not make the grade and those who die in training. I refuse to subsidise this carnage and therefore do not bet on horseracing.

For more information on the horseracing industry, contact Animal Aid on 01732 364 546 or visit their www.animalaid.org.uk

Thank you all so much

SIR - I wish to express my sincere thanks to the nurses and doctors of the Coronary Care Unit, Ward 6 at Luton & Dunstable Hospital for the care and kindness shown by them on my recent stay in their care. I also extend my thanks to the emergency ambulance service.

D-Day looming over care homes for OAPs

EXCLUSIVE

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

DECISIONS regarding care homes for the elderly are to be taken within a month.

On August 22 Luton Borough Council's executive is set to take a decision 'to further rationalise and restructure local authority elder persons' homes'.

Liberal Democrat group leader David Franks said that, at the full council meeting, he asked the Labour councillors for 'assurances' that this does not mean 'more closures' of council-run residential homes, but claims they 'refused to give any guarantees'.

Cllr Franks said: "I really hope this is not leading to another round of the anxiety, concern and uncertainty which surrounded Labour's closure of Sherd Lodge and The Mount (which closed in February 2010 and May 2011 respectively).

"I've not met anybody who believed those so-called consultation exercises were real.

"Most thought they were a bit of window dressing with the decisions already taken beforehand. If they are planning residential home closures then they should come clean and own up, the sooner the better. It is just not fair that they create these long periods of uncertainty. It causes total unnecessary pain and anguish for all those involved.

Cllr David Franks outside The Mount care home, which closed in March

"By announcing they are going to conduct a review it leads lots of people to think all sorts of things."

Luton Borough Council had not commented by the time we went to press.

Two arrested after youth is stabbed

A SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD was hospitalised after being stabbed – and two teenagers have been arrested.

Police were called to the Rothesay Road/Adelaide Street/Buxton Road area of Luton on Wednesday at around 2.20pm following reports of an attack.

Officers arrested a 16-year-old and a 17-year-old and are still trying to piece together exactly what sparked the assault.

Detective Constable Nick Oates, investigating, is keen to trace any witnesses who were in the area at the time who may be able to help the inquiry.

He said: "Police arrived quickly to the scene and arrested two people.

However, we still need members of the public to come forward and assist with this investigation.

"We believe the altercation began in Rothesay Road and moved to the Adelaide Street and Buxton Road area where the arrests were made."

Anyone with information can contact Det Con Oates, in confidence, on 01582 394333, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Man claimed knife was for 'protection'

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN has admitted carrying a kitchen knife on a trip to the shops – 'for protection'.

Mark Rawbone, 40, revealed a three-inch blade in his right trouser pocket when confronted by police outside his home in New Bedford Road, Luton, on July 16.

He was arrested and interviewed but made no comment, and at Luton Magistrates' Court on Wednesday Rawbone pleaded guilty to possession of a knife in a public place.

Magistrates heard how Rawbone 'accepts he had been drinking too much and was among the wrong crowd'.

It was for this reason that he 'fears for his personal safety and chose to go to the shops with a knife in his pocket'.

It was the fifth time Rawbone had been convicted of an offence involving possession of a knife. The first was in 2000, when he was convicted of possession of an eight inch kitchen knife.

Then in 2007 he was convicted of two counts of possession of knives, along with a further count in 2009.

In 2010 he was convicted of affray which also involved a knife.

Magistrates adjourned sentencing until next month and released Rawbone on unconditional bail.

Householders are warned to beware of burglars – even when you're in the garden sunbathing

BE aware of potential burglars who might target your house while you are sunbathing in the garden.

Police have warned people to take extra care to lock windows and doors while they are in the back yard enjoying the summer weather.

By securely locking UPVC doors – along with keeping valuables out of sight – burglaries around the area could be prevented as most thieves are lazy opportunists and if they see a door left wide open, or possibly unlocked with the owner engrossed elsewhere, they will not hesitate to take advantage of the situation.

To deter thieves you can fit outside security lights and put gates across side passages, leave lights and a radio on when you go out and double-check fences and boundaries for weak spots.

Never leave keys under mats and flower pots as those are the first place burglars will look.

Central Bedfordshire Cllr Brian Spurr said: "The summer is a time when people are out and enjoying the weather, but everyone needs to be vigilant and take measures to ensure that they do not become a victim of crime."

A year's ban for 'silly' drunk driver who lost control

A WOMAN who drank too much beer and crashed her car flipping it over onto its roof has been disqualified from driving.

A passer-by helped Malgorzata Bialas to get out of her Vauxhall Corsa after it had overturned in Bramingham Road, Luton.

Bialas, 30, had swerved across the road, hit the railings and spun the car around 360 degrees before it left the ground and landed upside down. Bialas, of Bagswick Close, failed a breathalyser test.

On Wednesday she told Luton Magistrates' Court she had drunk 'three beers' at her friend's house that evening on June 6 before driving home.

The court heard she was looking down at her car radio when approaching the roundabout and lost control.

Bialas pleaded guilty to drink-driving and admitted to magistrates: "It was my own silly fault."

She was disqualified from driving for 12 months, ordered to pay a £200 fine and costs of £85 and a victim surcharge of £15.

Duggan's Law set for Ireland's roads

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

DRINK-DRIVING laws pioneered in Britain by a pub landlord whose son was killed by a drink-driver could soon be passed in Ireland.

Declan Duggan, who runs The White Swan in High Street South, Dunstable, is the driving force behind Duggan's Law, which came into force in 2002 three years after his son was tragically killed in a car crash.

Mr Duggan embarked on a four-year campaign for new legislation after the driver of the car, in which Kevin was a passenger, had been drinking but because he was unconscious after the crash a blood sample could not be taken.

Following tireless campaigning by the family, the law was changed so that blood samples can be taken at hospital – and so 'Duggan's Law' came into being in Britain.

Since 2008 Mr Duggan (above) has been in talks with Irish politicians and last week Minister Leo Varadkar presented a set of road safety proposals, including legislation for taking blood samples from unconscious drivers. The Department for Transport has since confirmed that once this is presented to the Transport Committee, it can then be brought before the Dáil, the Irish Parliament, in the autumn session.

Mr Duggan said: "This is an important part of me and my family's continued fight for justice. It will be an amazing step forward if this happens in Ireland and I am very proud of the work that I have done in Kevin's name."

"I am also lucky to have worked with so many politicians committed to acting for the common good."

"It's quite exciting. The next stage will be to get this introduced as part of EU law."

Injured soldier takes bid to support heroes

Michael Swain

MICHAEL Swain was metres away from safety when he was struck down by an improvised explosive device.

The now 21-year-old is still recovering from losing both his legs but will take on the 500 mile challenge to raise money for Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Families Association (SSAFA) Forces Help.

Explaining what happened, Mr Swain said: "I was on foot patrol in Afghanistan Helmand Province, Sangin. We were about 150m short of the compound when we came across a long ditch that ran sideways along us.

"The first m an jumped over, nothing seemed out of the ordinary then I jumped over and the next thing I knew I was 6ft in the air falling to the ground, where straight away I was aware of the injuries I had sustained.

"My section commander, who was the next bloke behind me, took shrapnel to the face and was flown back to the UK with me. Luckily enough, after a couple of months, his injuries healed and he was eager to get back out to Afghanistan and carry on the job.

"At the time when it happened, I was just thinking 'this isn't real, it can't be happening', but it had and the lads around me who were helping me were great. I couldn't have asked for a better team.

RIFLEMAN Michael Swain was just two months into a tour in Afghanistan when at the age of 19 he lost both his legs in an explosion in Helmand Province in 2009. In September Mr Swain, of Stopsley, Luton, will cycle 500 miles on a handbike for an Armed Forces charity. SOPHIE SCOTT reports.

"After they patched me up and the helicopter was inbound I remember thinking 'I don't want to go, I wanted to stay.' I felt I had somehow let my mates down by not finishing the rest of the tour with them.

"It has affected my life in a lot of ways, as you can imagine, but I didn't let it slow me down. I was determined not to let it get the better of me. I found and developed new ways of getting through the day's activities and challenges and I found I can still do a lot of the same sports that I used to do, and some sports I didn't think were even possible."

Mr Swain was in hospital for five and a half weeks, but said he was 'lucky' as he was home in time for Christmas that year. Now he undergoes rehabilitation at the special centre in Headley Court, in Surrey, which treats injured members of the armed forces to help with his injuries.

He said: "Down there is where they make the magic. They get you up to a good standard of fitness that meets the requirement of your injury."

"There are lots of different injuries down there so everyone is different and needs other routes in helping them achieve their goals. I will be doing SSAFA's Ride of Britain on a handbike, a three-wheel based bike which is propelled by your arms.

"I am looking forward to doing the bike ride. It will be good to have the chance to give something back and hopefully help others, it will be a challenge but I'm looking forward to it."

"For SSAFA Forces Help's Ride of Britain, I hope to raise as much as possible as it is going towards a great cause."

"SSAFA Forces Help is a great charity. They have been around for a long time, but not everyone knows their name. They do a lot of stuff personally to help people which a lot of the time people never hear about."

"They help people from all services, from all ages and I think doing this bike ride is a great idea as it is reminding people that injured soldiers are still here and they do want to help."

The route covers almost 500 miles of challenging countryside, through the rugged fells of Cumbria to one of Britain's best loved national parks, the Yorkshire Dales, and onto the flat land of Lincolnshire and quaint villages of Cambridgeshire.

On the final day, the cyclists will pedal their way through London, finishing their gallant ride at the iconic Horseguards Parade.

A taste of the real Portugal can be found hidden deep in Lagos

Picture courtesy of Jay Fattorusso

TRAVEL

LAGOS, PORTUGAL

I CAN'T tell you how many reports I've read in the last few years telling me that sun-loving Brits are shunning European holidays for the (allegedly) cheaper UK summer break.

But after a week spent in Lagos on the west coast of the Algarve of Portugal, I couldn't disagree more.

The historical, cobbled streeted town was heaving with British, Irish, German (and the odd other nationality) tourist keen to bronze themselves for a week or two, alongside the bus load of backpackers who arrived at regular intervals to enjoy the day and night life this vibrant area has to offer.

On first impressions Lagos – pronounced La-gosh – is a maze of sweet narrow streets, shrouded by quaint buildings, all tucked in nicely by a historic city wall.

But hidden in the middle of all this culture is a vibrant centre, filled with restaurants spilling onto the street and seasonal workers trying to lure you into one of the many, many smoke-filled bars (the smoking ban doesn't seem to have hit Portugal yet).

Whether day or night, the buzz on the streets of Lagos is unmistakable, with shops a plenty and numerous happy hours to choose from.

But if you are looking for a taste of real Portugal, you have to delve a bit deeper than the beach house and burger bars that have popped up all over to appease the many UK visitors.

But trust me, if you look hard enough – beyond the beach balls and hair braiding – the true essence of Lagos is there.

Hidden in the side streets, and the smaller buildings, we found enough true traditional Portuguese restaurants to satisfy our need to try the local cuisine – which mostly com-

InfoStation

HAZEL Slade stayed at the Quintas dos Caracois apartments. The cost of an apartment ranges from 55 euros to 135 euros per day. For more information or to book visit www.quintadoscaracois.com Hazel flew with easyJet from London Luton to Faro. For more information visit www.easyjet.com prises fish, salad and potatoes and a very unusual Portuguese style steak, in a garlic broth topped off with a fried egg – yum!

We even found a traditional Italian restaurant run by a true Italian family tucked away off the beaten track, which was delicious for when you want a break from the local grub.

The town sits just across a main road from a long promenade, which at one end holds a pretty harbour and on the other lots of neat, small beaches tucked along the coast line like little pockets of sandy heaven.

These beaches nestle in little dips along the sea front, hidden by large rock walls, and the further away from the town you get, the quieter they are.

Although, as I said earlier, little about Lagos is quiet and even the smaller (including one nudist) beaches were dotted with sun worshippers of all ages.

We stayed just outside the town at beautiful, hillside apartments called Quintas dos Caracois.

Situated close to the main road – but not so close the noise disturbs you – the large apartments and private pool are just a stone's throw away from regular buses which within 10 minutes get you into Lagos.

But the real benefit of staying here is it gave us the chance to explore the smaller neighbouring seaside town of Luz.

About 15 minutes bus trip from Lagos (or five mins from our apartments) this is a quieter, family friendly town. With a long stretch of white sand and a handful, or two, of tasty restaurants, this is a refreshing break from the buzz of Lagos.

Although Luz is equally popular with tourists, and has a number of bars, it comes across much more family oriented and the peaceful evenings are not disturbed by the constant hub of promoters that don Lagos.

With a zoo and water park within reaching distance – although as a 30 something couple we didn't venture to these – it is safe to say that Lagos is a tourist's heaven in a beautiful surrounding.

You may have to dig that bit deeper for the history and culture, but if you are prepared to look, trust me, it is there.

Breakfast club

– with Heart FM's
Stuart and Natalie

IT'S been a week of big summer movie releases with Cars 2 and Horrible Bosses which stars former Friends star Jennifer Aniston who described her role in the film as 'sort of not so stable dentist who is a little bit of a predator.'

We wanted to know how much fun it was to play a role that sees her scantily clad in stockings in one scene. "It was a lot of fun, extraordinary, it was a closed set thankfully so it was just the director and my co-star Charlie."

The scene was one of her favourites and she loved being the boss for a change: "It's such a male cliché and it was nice to be able to play a women taking control in that way."

Jen is currently on a break and we will see her next in a new movie called Wonderlust in January.

Hot on the heels of his win in the German Grand Prix we caught up with Lewis Hamilton who appears in Cars 2.

He told us: "It's very, very surreal I can't believe it, I can't actually even believe I'm a Formula One driver, it's a dream. I'm like everyone who goes to the cinema and thinks, it would be pretty cool if I could be in a movie or be in the credits and now here I am, part of one of the greatest animation movies. In this movie I don't blow up or anything so hopefully there'll be a role for me in Cars 3."

He denied rumours he and Nicole Scherzinger are engaged: "All we can do is laugh it off and hope that the world doesn't take notice. We're massively focused on our work, she's working on her album and the X Factor USA and I'm focusing on my racing."

Stuart and Natalie present Heart Breakfast Monday to Friday 6am-10am on Heart 96.6FM

PLAYING THE HERO:
Ryan Reynolds
as Hal Jordan in Green Lantern

CINEMAGREEN LANTERN (12A)

Alban Arena, St Albans
Friday, 7.30pm

IN a universe as vast as it is mysterious, a small but powerful force has existed for millennia.

Protectors of peace and justice, they are called the Green Lantern Corps. A brotherhood of warriors formed by the different races from the entire universe sworn to keep intergalactic order, each Green Lantern wears a ring that grants him superpowers.

But when a new enemy called Parallax threatens to destroy the balance of power in the universe, their fate and that of Earth lie in the hands of their newest recruit, the first human ever selected for the Corps: Hal Jordan (Ryan Reynolds).

SUMMER FUNLUTON SUMMER FESTIVAL 2011

Various locations in Luton
Now until Tuesday, August 30, various times

LUTON Summer Festival kicked off yesterday and will provide free live entertainment for six days.

There will be music from artists, theatre for all the family, dance performances ranging from Bollywood to Hip Hop, children's activities, plus a licensed bar and refreshments.

This year's festival also features many more events taking place throughout August at Luton Culture venues, making Summer Festival 2011 the biggest yet.

The BBC introducing team will be returning to St George's Square again to give people a whole day of unsigned music free of charge, there will be free activities for children and their families in St George's Square, a film festival at Luton Library Theatre, plus a whole range of exciting workshops for young people taking place at The Hat Factory, Stockwood Discovery Centre and across Luton's Libraries.

With this much entertainment there is something for everyone, so make your summer sizzle with Luton's Summer Festival 2011.

The festival runs until August 30. Visit www.lutonculture.com or call 01582 878100 for a full line-up of events.

FILMGNOMEO AND JULIET (U)

Luton Library Theatre
August 13, 11am

GNOMEO and Juliet is a 2011 animated family film loosely based on William Shakespeare's play Romeo and Juliet.

The film is directed by Kelly Asbury, and the two main characters are voiced by James McAvoy and Emily Blunt.

The film was released in cinemas on February 11, 2011.

Tickets cost £3 for adults and £2 for children and are available from the box office on 01582 547474 or online at www.lutonlibrarytheatre.com

Digital Field Sales Executive – Motors

Summary of Job:

The Primary responsibility is to retain and grow a designated customer base of motor traders and dealerships as well as generating new business on the motors.co.uk network and selling client websites. Working within the defined territory of Beds, Bucks and Northants you will be promoting the motors.co.uk brand, the second largest used car advertising network in the UK as well as the LSN Media websites.

Experience in Sales or the motors industry is a distinct advantage as well as business to business experience however, applications from keen, enthusiastic sales people from all backgrounds will be considered.

Main Tasks and Responsibilities:

To develop strong customer loyalty through building warm, co-operative yet professional relationships with customers. - Proactively manage the account in such a way that will pre-empt any competitor attack. - Identify, follow up and close new business opportunities within your designated area. - Prepare presentations and pricing proposals to meet the needs of the sales process. - Identify and refer business opportunities for other LSN Products that you do not directly sell. - Promoting new products, offers and services to existing and new customers. - Ability to effectively plan your time in order to maximise the number of customer visits on a daily, weekly and monthly basis. - Maintain the prospect and customer database ensuring customer and prospect information is kept current. - Attend meetings and generate reports as required by your manager.

The successful candidate will possess the following:

- Sound presentation skills and a hungry approach to account development and new business, ensuring customers perceive our advertising solutions to be of high value. - Excellent telephone manner and the ability to communicate confidently and effectively with key decision makers. - Experience in a target-driven environment. - A pro-active approach in retaining customers and defending against competitors. - Strong Computer skills as well as being highly numerate and articulate, as well as possessing excellent administrative & organisational skills. - Resilience: responds well to pressure and adversity; enjoys a challenge and winning. - Motivation with the persistence to overcome objections. - A high customer care ethic: based on meeting agreed commitments and dealing with issues in a speedy, honest and straight-forward manner.

We offer:

- £20,000 per annum basic salary (dependant on experience)
- Realistic bonus structure OTE £24-27k
- Company car
- 25 days holiday per year
- Contributory pension and healthcare after qualifying period
- Regular training – office and field
- Genuine and realistic opportunities for further career advancement

If you would like to work within our small team of vibrant, hard working people who are passionate about achieving the best for their clients, their colleagues and the company please send your CV along with covering letter to:

CENTRAL BEDFORDSHIRE COUNCIL

CENTRAL BEDFORDSHIRE COUNCIL PROPOSES TO MAKE A VARIATION ORDER TO AMEND THE OFF STREET PARKING PLACES ORDER 2011

Reason for Variation Order:

To standardize the payment procedure for the Penalty Charge Notices. Therefore, Central Bedfordshire Council proposes to make a Road Traffic Regulation Order as follows:

Effect of the Variation Order:

It is proposed that the Variation Order will delete Paragraph 28. (a) of the "Central Bedfordshire Council (Off-Street Parking Places) Order 2011" and substitute the following:

28. (a) Payment method of the Penalty Charge to the Council or the Council's contractor shall be as specified on the Penalty Charge Notice.

Further Details: of the proposed Variation Order and the original 2011 Order may be examined during normal opening hours at Dunstable Library, Vernon Place, Dunstable LU5 4HA and Leighton Buzzard Library, Lake Street, Leighton Buzzard LU7 1RX. These details will be placed on deposit until 6 weeks after the Order is made or until it is decided not to continue with the proposal. Telephone 0300 300 5650 for further advice on this proposal.

Objections: should be sent in writing to the Orders & Commons Registration Officer, Countryside Access Team, Central Bedfordshire Council, Technology House, 239 Ampthill Road, Bedford MK42 9BD or (e-mail: chris.heard@centralbedfordshire.gov.uk), stating the grounds on which they are made by 22nd August 2011.

Order title: if made will be "Central Bedfordshire Council Central Bedfordshire Council (Off-Street Parking Places) (Variation) Order 2011". Basil Jackson, Assistant Director for Highways Technology House, 239 Ampthill Road, Bedford MK42 9BD 28th July 2011

THE BOROUGH OF LUTON (WARDOWN AVENUE) (TEMPORARY FOOTPATH CLOSURE) ORDER 2011

NOTICE is hereby given that Luton Borough Council, the Highway Authority for the said Borough, intends to make the above Order under the relevant provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 as amended.

The Order will come into operation on 15th August 2011 and will cease operation on 15th February 2012 or when the proposed works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

The effect of the Order will allow the Council to close to pedestrians the footpath and length of footbridge in the Schedule below. The Order is intended to create a window for the works to be done and it is anticipated that the works will be completed over a period within the dates and times described in the Schedule below. Specific dates will be signed locally. The Order will therefore be in operation when signs are displayed.

The purpose of the Order is to replace non slip surfacing on the footbridge between Knights Field and Wardown Avenue.

Access will be maintained as best as possible to properties whilst such works are being carried out and diversions for pedestrians will be marked by signs.

31st July 2011

Public Notices

Luton Borough Council
Transport and Works Act 1992
The Luton Dunstable Translink Order 2006
 Notice of Intention to make General Vesting Declaration

Notice is hereby given in accordance with section 3 of the Compulsory Purchase (Vesting Declarations) Act 1981 of the intention of Luton Borough Council (the Authority) to make a General Vesting Declaration vesting the land described in the Schedule to this notice in themselves at the expiration of not less than two months from the publication of this notice.

The following paragraphs contain a statement of the effect of Parts II and III of the Compulsory Purchase (Vesting Declarations) Act 1981.

PART I

Power to make general vesting declaration

- The Authority may acquire any of the land described in the Schedule hereto by making a general vesting declaration under Section 4 of the Compulsory Purchase (Vesting Declarations) Act 1981. This has the effect, subject to paragraph 4 below, of vesting the land in the Authority at the end of the period mentioned in paragraph 2 below. A declaration may not be made before the end of a period of two months from the first publication of a notice which includes this statement except with the consent in writing of every occupier of the land affected.

Notices concerning general vesting declaration

- As soon as may be after the Authority make a general vesting declaration, they must serve notice of it on every occupier of any of the land specified in the declaration (except land where there is one of the tenancies described in paragraph 3) and on every person who gives them information relating to the land in pursuance of the invitation contained in any notice. When the service of notices of the general vesting declaration is completed, a further period begins to run. This period, which must not be less than 28 days, will be specified in the declaration. On the first day after the end of this period ("the vesting date") the land described in the declaration will, subject to what is said in paragraph 4, vest in the Authority together with the right to enter on the land and take possession of it. Every person on whom the Authority could have served a notice to treat in respect of his interest in the land (other than a tenant under one of the tenancies described in paragraph 3) will be entitled to claim compensation for the acquisition of his interest in the land, with interest on the compensation from the vesting date.

Modifications with respect to certain tenancies

- In the case of certain tenancies, the position stated above is subject to modifications. The modifications apply where the tenancy is either a "minor tenancy", i.e. a tenancy for a year or a yearly tenancy or a lesser interest, or "a long tenancy which is about to expire". The latter expression means a tenancy granted for an interest greater than a minor tenancy but having on the vesting date a period still to run which is not more than the period specified in the declaration for this purpose (which must be more than a year). In calculating how long a tenancy has still to run, where any option to renew or to terminate it is available to either party, it shall be assumed that the landlord will take every opportunity open to him to terminate the tenancy while the tenant will use every opportunity to retain or renew his interest.
- The modifications are that the Authority may not exercise the right of entry referred to in paragraph 2 in respect of land subject to a tenancy described in paragraph 3 unless they first serve notice to treat in respect of the tenancy and then serve every occupier of the land with a notice of their intention to enter and take possession after the period (not less than 14 days from the service of the notice) specified in the notice. The right of entry will be exercisable at the end of that period. The vesting of the land will be subject to the tenancy until the end of that period or until the tenancy comes to an end, whichever happens first.

PART IIInvitation to give information

Every person who, if a general vesting declaration were made in respect of all the land comprised in the order (other than land in respect of which notice to treat has been served), would be entitled to claim compensation in respect of any such land, is invited to give information to the Authority making the declaration in the prescribed form with respect to his name and address and the land in question. The relevant prescribed form is set out below.

Schedule

Part of the land comprised in the order as confirmed and shown edged red on the plan deposited at the offices of Luton Borough Council, Town Hall, George Street, Luton, Bedfordshire, LU1 2BQ; and Central Bedfordshire Council, High Street North, Dunstable, Bedfordshire LU6 1LF and available for inspection at all reasonable hours. THE BOROUGH OF LUTON (TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT)
(AMENDMENT NO. 8D) ORDER 2011

NOTICE is hereby given that Luton Borough Council, the Highway Authority for the said Borough, proposes to make the above Order under the relevant provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 as amended.

The effect of the Order will be:-

- To revoke the existing verge parking restriction as described in Schedule 1 below.
- To introduce a new verge parking restriction as described in Schedule 2 below.
- To introduce a new no waiting at any time restriction along the M1/A505 roundabout circulatory carriageway as described in Schedule 3 below.
- To revoke the existing no waiting at any time restriction along A505 Dunstable Road (service road) as described in Schedule 1 below.
- To introduce a new no waiting at any time restriction along A505 Dunstable Road (service road) as described in Schedule 2 below.
- To revoke the existing no waiting at any time restriction along A505 Dunstable Road (including service road area) as described in Schedule 1 below.
- To introduce a new no waiting at any time restriction along A505 Dunstable Road (including service road area) as described in Schedule 2 below.

The purpose of the Order is to accommodate the improvements to M1 Junction 11 and prevent vehicles from waiting in the roundabout circulatory carriageway causing an obstruction.

A copy of the draft Order, together with a plan showing the roads and lengths of roads affected and a Statement of the Council's reasons for proposing to make the Order may be inspected at the Parking Shop at the Town Hall, Luton (public entrance on Gordon Street) between 9.00 am and 4.30 pm Monday to Friday.

If you wish to object to the proposed Orders you should write to the address below setting out the grounds of your objection by 26th August 2011 quoting reference D123846/5/OR/00.001.

Lawless shocked that Jake is now one of the boyos

FOOTBALL

NO-ONE was more surprised that Jake Howells received a call-up to the Wales Under-21 side than Luton Town team-mate Alex Lawless because he says the youngster has been teasing him about being Welsh all year.

Bryan Flynn announced the 20-year-old in his squad to face Hungary in a friendly, three days before the Hatters kick off their Blue Square Bet Premier campaign at AFC Telford.

The international coach investigated the ancestry of Howells after seeing him play in the Conference play-off final in May, only to find his grandfather is from the Principality.

And despite playing for England C last season, the midfielder is eligible to pull on a Dragons jersey - something which Lawless can't quite believe.

"It makes me laugh because all year he's been giving me stick about being Welsh," joked the former York City player.

"I've had stick from everyone and from Jake more than anyone.

"Him changing [allegiances] has made all the other lads take a bit more notice of me being Welsh, so I'm getting all these questions and after playing up in Wales in pre-season, it seems like I can't get away from the place at the minute."

Penalty woe hurt but Alex will be first on list for more

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.com

ALEX Lawless is desperate to redeem himself after missing one of the penalties in last season's Conference play-off final shoot-out that saw Luton Town's dreams of promotion back to the Football League go up in flames.

Defeat to AFC Wimbledon at the City of Manchester Stadium in May saw the Welshman finish on the losing side in the promotion show-piece for the second year in a row which he admits was the hardest day in his football career.

But with a glamour pre-season clash at home to Italian Serie A side Parma on Tuesday ahead of the first game league game at AFC Telford United on August 13, the midfielder is optimistic about the new campaign and says he will be the first to put his hand up for any more penalties.

"Everyone goes through the heartbreak of leaving clubs when you're younger and it's horrible, but in terms of losing, it was the hardest thing I've ever had to go through," Lawless said of the spot-kick defeat.

"I'm not looking for any sympathy and given the opportunity again, I'd step up and take one and make sure I'll score this time.

"It is two years in a row now that I've lost in that final. It is disappointing but, for me, it just adds more drive and adds fuel to the fire for this sea-

NIGHTMARE: Alex Lawless trudges back to centre circle after missing his spot kick in the play-off final son. I went away for a few weeks [afterwards] and I can't forget about it but I've got to get on with things. I hope, this season, I get a chance to put it right."

Luton have missed out on promotion through the play-offs in two consecutive seasons and Lawless is mindful that winning the Blue Square Bet Premier final is this term's target.

He said: "I wouldn't say that everyone is putting pressure on themselves thinking, 'it's automatic or nothing, but personally, I've gone through the play-offs two years in a row now and whether you are the favourites for it or not, it's such a hard way to go through."

"The aim has got to be winning the league, especially for club like Luton Town."

Little out to make big impression

BOXING

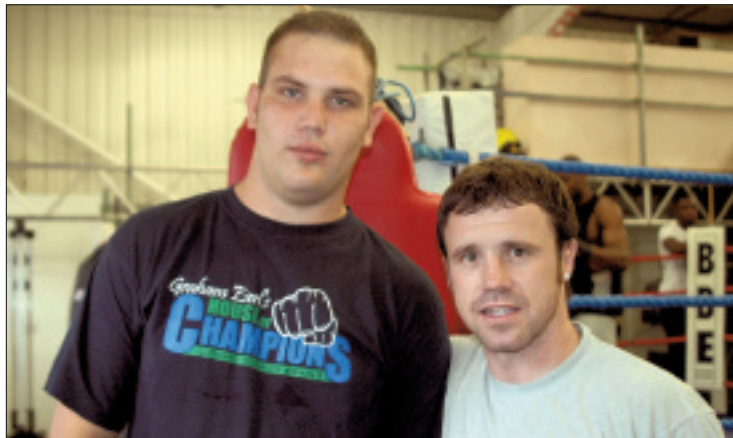

HATFIELD boxer Tom Little is aiming to reinvigorate the heavyweight sector, starting with his professional debut against Lithuanian Rolandas Cesna at the Graham Earl Promotions Renaissance event at Liquid Nightclub this afternoon.

Luton's former world champion Earl knows a good prospect when he sees one, so when he recently said, "I'll be debuting an exciting new heavyweight on the 31st" and "he's one of the best heavyweights I've ever seen", you know that Little has to be special.

As an amateur, the 6ft 6ins warrior won 16 of his 20 two contests and besides his height, his main advantage is his exceptional speed, making him somewhat unique in a division renowned for big lumbering punchers. I'm really looking forward to it and I'm looking forward to setting the heavyweight division alight," Little said (pictured right with Earl).

"I always knew my style was more suited to the pros than the amateurs, especially for the heavyweight scene, because I've got a lot of speed which I believe the current crop aren't going to be able to live with.

"I've got a good tall range and a stunning stiff jab. There's some fighters out there that are bigger than me but that doesn't mean much in the heavyweights because you can't hurt something you can't hit. Basically, I can't wait to get out there, start winning and get myself noticed so people start talking about me."

Little versus Cesna will be supporting the highly anticipated headline rematch between Luton-based Floridian Manny Oshunrinde and Jahmaine Smyle, after the former was denied his first pro win in the UK due to the new technical draw rule.

Earl has put together an undercard that features, besides Little and unbeaten light welterweight Terry Holmes, Belfast's big banging Joe Hillerby as well as the debuts of home town fighter James Smith and former Luton Shamrock ABC amateur Danny Mulhern.

Tickets are priced £30 and are available on the door which opens at 2.30pm. The fighting starts at 3pm.

Elder catches the eye

FOOTBALL

NATHAN Elder drew praise from Gary Brabin for scoring a stunning header in Tuesday's 3-2 defeat to Gabala with the Luton Town manager saying he'll take things 'step by step' with the trialist.

The striker was released by League Two Shrewsbury Town last month but spent half a season on loan at then Conference club AFC Wimbledon in 2010.

He was introduced as a substitute for the final third of the midweek pre-season clash with Azerbaijani side Gabala, managed by former England and Arsenal skipper Tony Adams and Brabin admitted he'd done his chances no harm with an impressive cameo.

"We know what Nathan can bring," said the Hatters boss. "Some of the players were in on [Tuesday] afternoon and worked hard, one of them being Danny Crow - he gave us a good hour."

"Nathan Elder came in as well and it was only my intention to play him for half an hour and I thought he did well when he came on. He's just coming in training with us at the moment."

"We are having a look at him. He's got to get himself fit because he's struggled with injuries in the last 12 months or so. He'll train with us and we'll see how it goes from there."

On his thumping goal, Brabin said: "That's what he's good at. If Nathan could do that every week then he wouldn't be training with us at the moment."

"He's certainly got that in his locker. We'll work with him over the next week or so and just see how he is, how he develops with the group and take it step by step."

■ ON FRIDAY Luton handed trialist defenders Will Antwi and Curtis Osano six-month contracts. For more, plus a report on yesterday's pre-season match at Cambridge City go to www.luton-dunstable.co.uk

CRICKET

DEFEAT by Cambridgeshire last week effectively ended Bedfordshire's challenge for the Minor Counties Championship this season, but they still have three games to play, beginning against Norfolk at Norwich this morning.

They make three changes from last week with Andy McGarry returning in place of Jake Higginbotham, Martin Weightman coming in for George

Hartley handed debut as McGarry and Weightman return

Bacon and wicketkeeper David Hartley making his debut as replacement for the unavailable George Arblaster.

It is a side which looks light on batting - there are only five specialist batsmen - and spin and top heavy on seam and swing.

Although Cambridgeshire bowled out Bedfordshire before lunch on the first day, the visitors still used spin for more than 90 overs in the two innings. Like the Bedford Modern School wicket last week, the track at Norwich usually turns, so there could be plenty of work for Chris Esh, Bedfordshire's only frontline spinner.

There needs to be more application as well from Bedfordshire's top-order batsman. There was certainly no excuse for Bedfordshire's first innings collapse against Cambridgeshire. Only James Kettleborough, whose innings of 31 included five fours in one over, and George Arblaster and George Bacon lower down, looked in any kind of form.

Then after a wonderful partnership between century-maker Kettleborough and Steve Stubbings (80) had taken Bedfordshire to 224-1 in their second innings and a lead of 39, another woeful middle-order collapse left the tailenders struggling to set a reasonable target.

In the end they managed to set Cambridgeshire 176.

At 120-6 it looked as though Bedfordshire might pull off a remarkable win, but Cambridgeshire got home without further loss.

Arshad bowled exceptionally well to claim four wickets, but a spin partner for Esh was badly missed.

Fans fury as EDL march forces ticket headache

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.com

LUTON Town fans have reacted angrily to the switching of the kick-off time for the club's opening Blue Square Bet Premier game of the season at AFC Telford United due to a planned march by the English Defence League.

The Conference curtain-raiser on Saturday, August 13 will now start at 7.45pm after West Mercia Police imposed strict stipulations for both clubs to agree or face the clash being postponed.

But details of the time switch and the unusual ticketing policy has sparked fury from the Hatters faithful, while some are concerned about links with the EDL.

Travelling Town supporters will be required to purchase a receipt from the club's ticket office where the details of each individual will be recorded.

They will then need to exchange that for a match ticket at a rendezvous point at Shifnal Service Station (junction 4 of the M54) at 6pm on match day.

Free coaches will transport all supporters to and from the ground and even fans travelling up by car or train will have to take this route.

A statement on the Hatters website read: 'Luton Town, AFC Telford United and the Football Conference would like to apologise to all supporters for the severe inconvenience that these arrangements will undoubtedly cause.

'However, had we not agreed to these stipulations set out by West Mercia Police, the would have been postponed, something that both clubs and the Football Conference wanted to avoid at all costs, especially as it is the opening game of the season.'

It also stated that the game couldn't be switched to Kenilworth Road due to demolition work linked to the Luton and Dunstable guided busway taking place that weekend.

But fans have taken to social media website Facebook to express their anger.

Keith Hayward said: 'It's about time the club started to make it clear that they do not wish to be associated with the EDL, as it will be guilty by association until then. And this match should be on a different date.'

Mark Haydon added: 'By deciding not to go, because of the daft arrangements, you actually give them what they want. The old Bill clearly don't want the Luton fans to bother going. Makes their life easier, saves them money and this ridiculous system is born out of prejudice and is designed to put everyone off. They can then knock off early.'

On the ticketing arrangements, Steve Russell wrote: 'That's a joke, surely. What next? Gonna be asking for fingerprints and DNA samples soon I tell ya lol.'

On the kick-off time change, which had previously been moved from 3pm to 12.30pm, Jeff Smith said: 'congratulations to all and sundry for making an utter pig's ear of things. Once again it's the football fan that suffers. What's the point bothering any more? You take leave, swap shifts, have favours done and the date or the kick off time gets changed, sod it, why bother.'

Adams gets his revenge for '88

RETURN: Tony Adams at Kenilworth Road on Wednesday

TONY Adams joked that he'd got revenge, almost a quarter of a century on, for losing out to Luton Town in the 1988 Littlewoods Cup final.

The former Arsenal and England captain is now manager of Azerbaijan side Gabala and he led his side to a 3-2 pre-season victory over the Hatters at Kenilworth Road on Wednesday.

On his last visit to the stadium on Boxing Day 1991, he said: 'I got sent off here last time for a professional foul. I was the last man I suppose, technically. It was a new rule.

'I think we lost 1-0 here as well - Mick Harford done me in the box and scored a good goal.' Harford, Brian Stein, Danny Wilson, David Preece and Steve Foster all played through the club's halcyon days in the old first division when teams like the Gunners were regular opposition. But the cup final victory over the north London side still remains Town's greatest achievement.

'They were a super team in those days,' said Adams, who captained Arsenal that day, before quipping, 'But I got revenge for '88 - 3-2 to Luton in '88, 3-2 to Gabala tonight. Revenge at last, Adams waits 23 years.'
